Brief Synopsis

Current Situation as of 1700 hrs

The secure zone continues to be staffed and filtered by officers in the area surrounded by Ottawa River, Hwy 417, Bronson and the Canal. There is an inner exclusion zone on Wellington from Bay to Elgin and south to Sparkes St. The exclusion zone can only be accessed by authorized personnel at this point.

The peripheral roads and known hotspots have been assessed and cleared by POU, Tactical and Traffic. These roads are being cleared by city roads department in preparation for a phased return to regular traffic. Operations are currently underway to clear the Coventry Rd site.

There remains a robust police presence through the downtown core. We have seen one protest group at Confederation Park which dispersed after a short period. A second protest of 150-200 people are at the intersection of SJAM and Booth.

Work is underway to finish cleaning snow from SJAM in order to reopen the roadway. Once this roadway is open, it will allow access for regular traffic to the Portage bridge. The protest group at SJAM and Booth would move to the edge of the exclusion zone near Bronson. PLT are being engaged to find a mutually acceptable position for peaceful protest outside of the exclusion zone.

There is other ongoing work to clear and rehabilitate the Mackenzie, Rideau, Sussex and Colonel By area. Once completed, these roadways will be open for regular traffic with the exception of westbound Rideau.
